

as you read this the / persuasive technology / from Stanford captures / us and invents desire / they call it captology.
in the USA / thirteen El Dorados here. / A friend from El Dorado / the Iberians rampaged / Arkansas strong desires / finally killed the young man.
the El Dorado / covered himself in gold dust / he jumped into lakes / after the virus, passion / for the gold infects us all.
when is desire / a pathogenic virus? / like bacteria / after the virus, passion / for the gold infects us all.
in our desire / and in our golden moments / many forms arise / precious metal does not rust / though our desire decays.
can our desire / escape time and space on Earth? / PJ Harvey sang / is this desire, enough / enough to lift us above?
medieval merchants / used touchstones for purity / rub your lines on it / the colors you see reveal / what is your touchstone today?